Get Ready to Illuminate Your Life—Bossco International Blow Out Sale is On

San Diego, CA (October 5, 2009) Bossco International has announced a 35% off sale on all of their portable illuminators through December 31, 2009.

Check out Bossco's Luma Lite. This dandy stocking stuffer is a handy addition to any toolbox, including hers! Built-in magnetic base and optional Velcro clip attachments allow you to work, hands free, with direct light on any project. Great for those automotive jobs whether in the garage or out. The Luma Lite is also handy for plumbing repairs, electrical work, and custom household lighting projects, as well as a safe and thoughtful addition to her car in case of emergency roadside needs.

Or how about the first-ever, patent pending HI:BEAM Lighted Open End Wrench Set? Each wrench has a recessed LED light on both open ends with three light options—low beam, high beam and emergency flashing. Set includes 14 options with seven double-ended wrenches in both metric and standard measurements.

Be sure to take note of the Cuff Lite. If you're an outdoor sportsman, this lightweight, one-size fits all, multi-purpose illuminator featuring elastic finger loops and a comfortable, adjustable wristband is perfect for hands free light wherever and whenever you need it. The unique design allows you to pull it on over work gloves or bare hands for an instant flashlight making it extra handy when managing hunting and fishing equipment.

Be sure to stop by Bossco's SEMA Booth #12353 and catch celebrity and Master Mechanic Sam Memmolo. Sam will be signing autographs and demonstrating the HI: BEAM line of products on Wednesday, November 4, 2009 from 9:00 a.m. to noon.
